PLAINFIELD HIGH SCHOOL

Foreword

This Milestone has been compiled for the purpose of maintaining in our memories the happiest days of our lives—our school days. In the future we may see once more through this book our old friends, our activities, our varied social life, and our fun. This yearbook will have fulfilled its purpose if, in the days yet to come, it can recall to our hearts the warm glow of school day joy and fellowship.

THE CLASS OF 1939
HONORS

This year the Senior Class is dedicating the Milestone to

MISS ELEANOR JOHNSTONE and
MR. JOHN BOYER

in appreciation of their service to the school and

Class Poem

ONWARD

We mortal men, to whom has been denied
Unending life, prerogative divine,
Must often, hastening down the streets of Time,
Arrest where meet both Past and Trail Untried.

The Past, indelibly inscribed
Upon the map which marks our gain,
Should hold no charm for him whose pride
Lies in his faith to face all future strain.
For he who looks ahead,
With trepidation dead,
Will find his Goal much easier to attain.

So let us go forward, where yonder lies
The glory of a battle won,
And ever watch, with hopeful eyes,
The road climbing upward into the sun.

F. Burket Anderson, '39.

Dear Diary

FRESHMAN YEAR

September 7, 1935.
Dear Diary:

School tomorrow! Wonder how we'll like it? Just think! We're going to HIGH SCHOOL tomorrow.

September 8, 1935.
Dear Diary:

It's all over—for one day. We must pour our hearts out to you, Diary, because everyone just laughs at us. We knew that P. H. S. was big. Now, it seems immense! There are so many places where we can get lost.

The other Freshmen are all right, because we're all in the same boat; but those upper-classmen—whew! The Seniors are so haughty (high-hat would be a better word); and every time we passed some of them they'd say, "My, but the Frosh get smaller every year. Next thing you know we'll need a microscope to see them. And they're always getting under your feet." We guessed that some of them have been here so long that they've forgotten when they were Freshmen.

And then there's that traffic system. You can go only one way in the halls, only up certain stairways, and only down others. It's so confusing.

At lunch time, Diary, we sat down at the nicest table. It was all fixed up with silverware and napkins. And the Sophomores just laughed and laughed. Well, how were we to know that that was where the faculty ate?

Oh, Diary, we're so discouraged. It's terrible to be a Freshman.

October 31, 1935.
Dear Diary:

We held election of officers last week. All the candidates had campaign managers who got up and told how wonderful their candidates were, and then the candidates got up and told how much they were going to do for the class. Well, they all praised themselves so much, that we didn't know whom to vote for. Anyway, Bob Wimer and Ken Throckmorton were elected president and vice-president, and Bea Morrison and Doris Floyd were elected secretary and treasurer.

We guess these officers are all right because no sooner had they been elected than they planned a "Get-Acquainted" Hallowe'en Party for our class. Admission was fifteen cents, and the class turned out in full force. Walter Leveridge was Master of Ceremonies, and we had skits, dancing to Rosalyn Sack's piano playing, and refreshments. Perhaps we're going to enjoy being a Freshman after all.

The new club system was inaugurated this month by Dr. Jones. Each student elected a club. The clubs meet every Tuesday during assembly period.

June 25, 1936.
Dear Diary:

And thus our Freshman year has come to an end. Some things we wouldn't have missed were: the fine football playing of Warren Henry, Bob Wimer, and Joe Loggia; Jane West's receiving the high honor roll medal; the way some boys sigh when they see Neva Woodhull and Marilyn Chamberlain; Betty Hewitt's fine dramatic work; and the fast rate of speed at which the new building and trophy case are being built.

Well, our first year has ended. Next year we'll be Sophomores. And then, just watch our smoke!

SOPHOMORE YEAR

September 9, 1936.

Dear Diary:

This is our first day in school as Sophomores. It's a wonderful feeling to know that you really BELONG. We're glad to be back, Diary, even though it was such a short summer.

There are so many new changes in the building. The counselors have been moved from the stalls on the third floor front corridor to the new compartments in room 101. The girls' cloakroom on the second floor has been changed to a classroom, and room 121 has been divided into two rooms. What will they think of next?

December 25, 1936.

Dear Diary:

Dickens once wrote "A Christmas Carol," and its presentation every four years has become a tradition at P. H. S. We truly enjoyed the fine performance given this year.

March 31, 1937.

Dear Diary:

Have you ever been broke? If you have, you know how the Sophomore treasury felt. We had nary a copper to our name, so we ran the movie, "Jane Eyre." It added only a few paltry coins to our treasury, but we haven't given up hope. We've heard Rockfeller started on a dime.

April 31, 1937.

Dear Diary:

Swing is sweeping the country. Yeah! You should hear our swing band. Are they mellow? The band originated in a Sophomore home room under the managegership of Johnny Gruneisen. With Thompson, Grausso, Elliott, and York swinging out, our class is well represented.

Now that swing has come to stay, we're going to sing popular songs in assembly. The Student Council chose the songs, and we hear that the first number is to be a little ditty that Columbus sang, "Star Dust."

The new building is supposed to be dedicated soon. We don't want to be catty, but we don't think it will ever be finished. Every day one brick is laid while the WPA sings "The Star-spangled Banner," "America," and "God Save the New Deal." We feel a little sorry for one of the men. He doesn't have a shovel to lean on as the rest of them have.

June 26, 1937.

Dear Diary:

We were wrong. The new building was dedicated this year. Even the trophy case was finished. One of the best improvements this year, we think, is the system of having one or two representatives from each home room in the Student Council. It's the nearest thing to actual student government by the students that we've had in many a year.

Well, Diary, we've weathered the storm for another year; and now that our ship has reached the port safely, we'll start on our third voyage, as members of the Junior Class!

JUNIOR YEAR

September 9, 1937.

Dear Diary:

Just think, ten short weeks ago we were Sophomores, mere children. As Juniors, we have truly grown up. The boys have discarded knickers; and the girls, short dresses. Last but not least, we don't have to sit in the balcony any more, and we can go to chapel every week. We're so happy to see our friends that we're almost glad that school has started.

Bob Lounsbury is holding the reins as our president this year, and Neva Woodhull, Jane West, and Bea Morrison are his very able assistants. If Bob rates as high in leadership as he does in feet and inches, we'll expect a lot from him this year.

The new building is finally, at last, and actually open for use. It contains the band room, printing shop, and auto mechanics shop. The Entree has been enlarged to six columns. We think it's going to be a pretty good paper (especially since we found out that our president is managing editor).

December 4, 1937.

Dear Diary:

We have just returned from the Junior Plays, and of course we couldn't wait to tell you how wonderful they were. They really were super-super, Diary. And we didn't go merely because we were taxed with a ticket. Outstanding performances were those of Dolores Rollerson as Marion in "Small Town Girl" and Geraldine Stomps and Ken Goldmann as Queen Guinevere and romantic Lancelot. Of course we mustn't forget villainous Modred and Good King Alfred, capably handled by Bill Weise and Alfred Shapiro.

We're disappointed, Diary. The Junior-Senior Roast has been definitely done away with. No more will quaking Juniors die a hundred deaths, fearing that they will be "roasted." However, as Pollyanna would say, we're glad that haughty Seniors will no longer be able to gloat as squirming Juniors have their private lives exposed before a snickering audience.

April 21, 1938.

Dear Diary:

The decision on the Cook case was unfavorable to Coach Cook.

April 25, 1938.

Dear Diary:

Well, it's happened. One thousand P. H. S. students are out on strike in protest to the Board of Education's decision in the Cook case. Some of the students feel that this is the one and only way to make their feelings effectively known.

May 20, 1938.

Dear Diary:

It may be three o'clock in the morning (at least that's what we told our parents); but we have just returned from the Junior Prom, and we must tell you about it. The gym was decorated as a Valencia Vineyard, with clusters of luscious purple grapes (oh, well, balloons) festooned along the walls. There were tables along the sides, and refreshments. To Ruth Strain goes much credit for the splendid decorations. Swing was supplied by the Pleumer Brothers orchestra, with Dave Karner beating the drums. Diary, it was simply scrumptious— Just as a last word, might we say that we thought Bertha Ciesielski and Marilyn Chamberlain looked particularly enticing in their strapless evening gowns!

June 25, 1938.

Dear Diary:

Seniors will not have to take final exams this year! We Juniors are holding our breath in hopes that we, too, will not have to go through that dreadful ordeal. Well, at least it's something to look forward to. Unfortunately, the rest of the school will take examinations. These exams will be shortened to forty minutes and taken in class periods. That's some consolation (but not very much).

Well, Diary, it's time to say good-bye for another summer. In a few short months we'll be Seniors and almost at the end of the road. Good-bye, Diary, until September, and pardon me while I find somebody's shoulder to weep on.

SENIOR YEAR

September 7, 1938.

Dear Diary:

And now the final year has come. In ten short months we'll leave the portals of P. H. S. forever, for better or for worse. My, how time flies. A few short years ago we were but Freshmen, pulled roughly out of our cradles and forced to make our way through a strange school among a sea of unfamiliar people. The way was difficult, and our path filled with obstacles, but those of us who were undaunted in the face of fear arrived at our long-waited-for destination—our Senior year.

But enough of this sentiment. Diary, we would never have recognized the school if we hadn't found the place where we carved our initials last year. The Park Avenue grounds have been paved, and a new bicycle rack added. Two rows of shrubs (with thorns) now line the grass on this side. (They couldn't keep us off the grass any other way.) Inside the building we found, with mingled pleasure and dismay, a sound-proof cafeteria, which meant that we could no longer eat in the park.

The student handbooks which were discussed so much last year, and which contain so much information about P. H. S., were given out this morning. The Freshmen had the advantage over us this time. They got their handbooks free, whereas we had to pay five cents for ours.

We also have seen another of our wishes come true—the new band uniforms. The nine girl twirlers and the drum major are welcome additions to the band. We know that this will boost school spirit!

October 11, 1938.

Dear Diary:

As a reward for her hard work on the Student Council Loretta Taylor has been elected president of the Council. Loretta deserved this victory, and we wish to offer our congratulations.

December 2, 1938.

Dear Diary:

At last, the new enlarged library will be opened to eager students! To make room for this improvement, room 210 and the old English office were removed. A new and larger English office was established, leaving the rest of the space for the library. The students from 210 were moved downstairs to three recently completed rooms, 110, 104, and 100.

December 9, 1938.

Dear Diary:

Fred Davey, our treasurer, informed us that our treasury was as bare as Mother Hubbard's cupboard. After a number of class meetings in which all sorts of fantastic schemes were suggested for raising money (including robbing a bank), Bob Lounsbury, our president, finally hit upon the idea of having "Bud" Waite speak. Mr. Waite, radio operator on the Second Byrd Expedition, spoke in assembly today.

January 29, 1939.

Dear Diary:

It's a long time since we've had a program in which the entire school was given a chance to participate. We mean "Invisible Controls," which is a masque. (For you ignorant people—a masque is not something you wear on your face on Hallowe'en, but an immense dramatic production with singing and dancing.) The setting for this music drama was Mount Olympus, the place where the gods and goddesses who control men's destinies reside. One hundred fifty students participated in this gigantic production, all under the direction of Miss Le Fevre. The A Cappella Choir, formed this year by Mrs. Searles, did a fine piece of singing work; and the dances under Mrs. Gilbert were done especially well. In fact, we liked everything!

March 10, 1939.

Dear Diary:

The Senior Class is very proud of its president, Bob Lounsbury, who won the state oratorical contest sponsored by the American Legion. In assembly this morning, Bob received a trophy from ex-Governor Hoffman.

We must congratulate Johnny Danyo also for being picked all state center in basketball. The seventeen victories, out of twenty-one games, are due largely to the fine playing of our fellow classmate. We'll never forget those 33 points he piled up by himself in the P. H. S.-N. P. H. S. game. That is a record to be truly proud of.

March 25, 1939.

Almost a year has passed since the students went on their protest strike of the dismissal of Coach "Cliff" Cook. However, the strike was not in vain. Coach Cook was rehired today by the Board of Education by a vote of 3 to 2.

April 1, 1939.

Dear Diary:

We're laughing so hard I can hardly write. We've just returned from the Senior Class Play "You Can't Take It With You." The auditorium was packed to the rafters, and we're sure that the money we've made will shut Davey up forever. But to get back to the play—it was a wow, a howl, a scream, and darn funny, too! It was too bad that Eddie Moppert got the chicken pox on the eve of the dress rehearsal (since when do Seniors get chicken pox?), but Ralph Briggs, Sophomore, mastered the part in a few hours. We were not surprised at the fine performances of Jack Cogger and Ken Goldmann, whom we have seen on the stage before; but Claire Van Nest as Penny and Bertha Ciesielski as the Countess gave us quite a pleasant surprise, and to them go top honors.

June 22, 1939.

Dear Diary:

Well, it's all over but the shouting. We're about to bid our sad adieus to the school which has been our home for four happy years. It seems strange not to be able to say, "See you next year." We have reached the crossroads—some will take one road and go to college, while the rest of us will take the other road, and begin earning our living immediately. Whatever the future, we have gained four years of knowledge which can never be taken away from us.

It is hard, Diary, to think of leaving, but tonight, after graduation, we shall file down the aisles not as students of P. H. S., but as young men and women of the world. We may never see some of our classmates again, and this fills our heart with sorrow. New friendships and experiences may fill our minds, but we shall never forget, Diary, never! The lasting memories of our school days will linger with us always; and when, some day, we may be in distant lands, we shall be haunted by the memories of the 8:20 bell, the rush to get out of school at 3:00, the two hot dogs we always had on Tuesday, dirty saddles, homework, and faces of dear friends whom we have never seen since. Oh, Diary, "Parting is such sweet sorrow."

Selma Goldstein.

Class Prophecy

Chicago, June 5.—Democratic National Chairman Edward J. Moppert was confined to his room here at the Hotel Van Zandt due to a sudden attack of chicken pox. Chairman Moppert spoke last evening to a group of some 7,000 people at Union Station as he arrived from Louisville, Ky., urging them to have faith in the Democrats and soliciting their votes for the Newer Deal candidate, Frederick Knowles Davey, of Oklahoma. Moppert's personal physician, Harold Lloyd, said that while the case was not serious, Moppert would have to remain indoors for a week at least. Meanwhile, Miss Marcia Friedman, a member of the National Executive Committee, was frantically making plans for a substitute speaker to take Moppert's place at the $300 a plate dinner at the Van Zandt. The dinner is scheduled to take place in "Some Room," starting at eight o'clock. Pierre Corveleyn, the famous French connoisseur of cuisine, will be in charge of the culinary operations. Stan Thompson and his "High Riders" will play for dancing after the dinner.

Mrs. Wilbur Lakin, noted art sponsor, of 1011 Fifth Avenue, today announced that she had decided to turn over her priceless painting, "Night Mist," to the Metropolitan Museum of Art. The work was executed some forty years ago in the rural section of America by the renowned painter, William "Butch" Evans. It will go on exhibition tomorrow at the Museum immediately after having been moved from the Lakin apartment in Davenport Arms by the Lipscombe Moving (and how!) Company. Said Mrs. Lakin, a former high school student, "Willy and I just thought we'd seen enough of it, and it is so, so, so beautiful that we just couldn't resist letting the public get a glance at it. And confidentially, Willy hasn't had a client in three months, so we just wanted . . ." Ed's. note: Mr. Lakin deals in stocks and bonds at 69 Wall Street, handles portfolios, or shines shoes. Rates are very reasonable, and service is guaranteed satisfactory. Either you are pleased or Lakin leaves town. Office hours: 4 to 4, and in between times.

New York, N. Y., June 5.—Richard Smith Hippodrome reverberated within and without last night as the German - Italian - Albanian - Siamese-Tahitian Bund held its annual birthday rally. Field Marshal General Admiral Commander Friedrick Wilhelm Adolf Doring delivered the main grunts of the evening, but was unable to finish his speech due to a slight (?) disturbance. Field Marshal General Admiral Commander Doring shouted: "Dietsche nicht veing untegtyzs . . . tzeyguv niche vahr . . . javohl, javohl, duetch, heil, muel, nieyzgeifhgyyyedhfg kkghy, cith buuuuuurek!!!!" The audience did not seem to agree with him, and immediately everyone started shouting. Within ten minutes Manager Richard Smith declared the situation uncontrollable. (Some say he didn't care, as there was a certain young lady.) The 10,000 police assigned to duty around what used to be Madison Square Garden finally gave up and started a game of dice. Hank Nesbit won. Meanwhile, led by Sal Parello, several hundred members of the Parello "League for a Job for Parello" picketed the rally, carrying signs which read: "Help a Just Cause" . . . "NO SCHOOL MONDAY." Arthur Gross, Secretary of the League, and Norbert Tomczak, the assistant to the Secretary, were among those carrying signs. They seemed experienced. Over in Union Square, Senor Oscar Carrete, just arrived last week from the latest Spanish uprising, spoke to several thousand anti-Nazis, proclaiming: "Senores, senoritas, senoras, etc., buenos dias, el tempo es male, no!!!!" The event assumed gigantic proportions later in the evening as Robert Milton Drummond Finehout, the million dollar movie magnet, arrived to help out his newsreel crew. Commented columnist Elinore Shrager of the Hoist syndicate: "Do you know any dirt?"

Reno, Nevada, June 6.—Mrs. Geraldine, Betty, Doris, Kay, Elaine, Goldmann today won an uncontested divorce from Kenneth P. D. Q. Goldmann, now under contract with Hastings-Drummond Corporation to play Rhett Butler in the forthcoming production, "Gone With the Wind." She sued her play-with-girl husband for desertion, mental cruelty, and negligence. Reached in Miami Beach, where he is still womaning, Goldmann commented: "Confidentially, ..."

Washington, D. C., June 5.—Unexpected opposition to the new tax plan submitted by Senator Russo of New Jersey arose today in a stormy session of Congress. Strangely enough, the opposition to the plan was led by Russo's colleague from New Jersey, Senator Wimer. After the meeting of the financial committee, headed by Senator Albert Black of South Carolina, it was believed that the bill, calling for an annual tax "on general principles" of ten cents per citizen, would be passed without trouble. The plan, titled as the Citizens' Co-operative Fund by its authors, is designed to provide resources for entertainment during the sessions of Congress. Wimer, backed by Representatives Dorothy James and Dorothe Gage of New Jersey in the House, made a lengthy filibuster on the floor of the Senate today. Quiet was finally restored by Vice-President Casserly, and, apparently disgusted with the proceedings, Secretary of Labor Bill Randolph left the hall. Just what will happen to the bill is indefinite. Kenneth Baumgardner, Clerk of the Senate, is scheduled to take a vote tomorrow afternoon. Senator Russo severely criticized the Washington "Post" today for having labeled his plan a tax bill. Stated the irate Senator: "This is a co-operative fund, for the good of everyone, including myself!"

Salt Lake City, Utah, June 5. — Calvin "Peace, Brother, Peace" Hoagland, the tireless crusading evangelist, addressed a great gathering of some 400,000 people assembled in the famous Salt Lake amphitheatre. Mayor Geoffrey McGarry had ordered out all of the 300 policemen to hold the crowd in check, but Sergeant Carl Lehman reported that control was nigh impossible. Almost half of the crowd was made up of cheering Morons, who are in Salt Lake City for their annual convention. Led by Harold Lloyd, greatest living advocate of polygamy, the Morons have been great supporters of Hoagland ever since he modified his creed to include their belief. In a stirring appeal, Hoagland denounced the ways of sin and vice, advising the gathering never to touch liquor, especially beer, and to shield themselves from the temptations of a wicked world. It is reported that Charles "Bottles" Frankinhoff, President of Acme Distilling Corporation, has filed suit with the United States District Court against Hoagland for his attacks on Acme products, Guzzlegood Beer and Riproaring Rye and Scotch. Ironman Bussel, Acme's corporation counsel, declared: "The case is in the bag!" It is scheduled to come up before Judge John Cogger in the Illinois court next month.

Washington, D. C., June 6.—President Lounsbury today announced that Miss Margaret Gallaher, famed criminologist, had relinquished her post as Scoutmaster of Plainfield Troop 2 to accept his appointment as Chief of the Department of Justice. Miss Gallaher is believed to be the first woman ever to hold the position. She will assume duties early in August after completing her work in Plainfield. She will probably reside in Washington with her husband at 146 Pennsylvania Avenue. Morris E. X. Timpson, present head of the department, reached retirement age last week, and anyway, he said: "I'm bored." William Mercer and Frank V. Flagg will continue in their positions as Assistant Chiefs.

Newark, June 5, 1972. — Romeo and Juliet, by William Shakespeare, was presented at the Acme Theatre, directed by Miss Ruth Le Fevre, stage designed by LeRoy Rubin. The cast included Charles James, Dolores Rollerson, George Beck, and others.

Romeo and Juliet has been presented for hundreds of years now, but never was it played as it was in Newark last night. The production was a truly superb one, well-rounded in all its aspects. Charles James distinguished himself once again as the stage's most brilliant romantic actor. His Romeo was ravishing. Dolores Rollerson as Juliet was fetching also. Together, they are invincible. They are indeed the stage's greatest pair. George Beck played Mercutio with his accustomed grace and finesse. Also performing in a noteworthy manner were Rosalyn Sack and Carolyn Juenemann.

Jersey City, June 5.—Seven New York society women were held in jail here today on a speeding charge. Mrs. Everett Bishop, wife of the former tennis player and present Chairman of the Board of Spalding and Co., who was driving, said she and her companions were hurrying to a tea in East Orange at the home of Mrs. Carlyle Buchard, President of the East Orange Junior League. After a short hearing before 94-year-old Mayor Frank Hague, the women were held without bail. Raymond Williams, Hague's personal adviser, said he thought the mayor had been especially severe because Mrs. Bishop, the former Miss Jocelyn Evans, mentioned that a Mrs. Rushmore would pour that afternoon. Hague then decided the ladies would go without their tea. Shouted Mrs. J. Donald Overly: "Oh . . ." Also riding with Mrs. Bishop in her twenty foot convertible Rolls Royce (they say she smuggled it in from Europe in her pocketbook) were Mrs. Neva Waldorf Woodhull Brown Mauro Loizeaux Lloyd, Mrs. Richard Hetfield, Mrs. John McClelland, Mrs. Hubert Scott, and Miss Georgianna Merrill (who still hasn't decided). Last minute reports say that Mrs. James Spalding of the New York Junior League is on her way to Jersey City to "see the mayor."

Manager David Kaminsky of the Stork Club tells me that he has just received his long awaited order of French Montignue, 1889. Three cases of it! And he also announces that for this very choice wine, he will charge only twelve and a half dollars a bottle. We can expect to see Playboy Everett Bishop there within the next few days. Speaking of Bishop, the Congressional Finance Committee, headed by Senator Henry Morse of Oklahoma, reported yesterday that his (Bishop's) 1971 income was $999,999,-999. He is said to have squandered the missing dollar on a coke at Leon and Eddie's.

William Van Buren, the oil magnate, and John Boguski, eastern representative for Spalding and Co., who were allegedly the parties responsible for the general brawl at El Morocco last week, appeared before Judge Smalley of the District Court. Manager Ray Locke said he wasn't sure "who done it," but the case was dismissed with wrist-slappings to the two defendants. Locke, as you may know, is Morocco's new manager, having taken over last month. He used to play the drums with "King of Swazz" Stan Thompson, but his lumbago started coming back, so he has given up the orchestra work.

Doug York and his orchestra at liberty during the next two weeks. Write P. O. Box 999 for rates or phone Plfd. 6-0000.

ATHLETICS

FOOTBALL

The 1938 football season saw much action on the local gridiron as well as on foreign fields. The Cardinal eleven was pitted against some of the top ranking teams in the state; and although they suffered defeat in the majority of their tilts, a prevailing spirit on the part of both the team and the school enabled the Blue and Red combine to play every game with an untiring determination. The most surprising contest of the season was the Montclair upset, when the Cards sent the visitors home scoreless while P.H.S. retained 8 points. The 78 yard run made by our veteran star, Warren Henry, will not be forgotten soon, nor the outstanding playing of our fleet-footed Chris Lipscombe. The tragedy of the season was in the early part of the East Orange game. Not only did our host send us home with a 21-0 defeat, but our distinguished center, Chick Harris, broke his ankle, and his valuable assistance was lost for the rest of the season. Also, the Cards had to face their opponents without the much-needed aid of Frank Grausso, who underwent an appendicitis operation early in the season. The Cards ended their season with 2 wins, 4 losses, and 2 ties.

BASKETBALL

The big Red and Blue quintet started its champion-dotted schedule with a bang. In the course of the season, the Cardinals came up against some of the leading teams in the state. In doing so they ran up a record of 15 wins against 3 losses. While compiling this record, our boys annexed the city championship in two straight games by the scores of 58 to 37 and 30 to 20.

Besides their regular schedule, the Cardinals won the County Tournament games against Roselle, Thomas Jefferson, and St. Patrick's. They were defeated in the finals, however, by Linden, one of the three teams that scored wins over the Red and Blue combination in the regular season. The shadow of misfortune still seemed to fall upon the boys. In saying this, we refer to the sectional semi-finals of the State Tournament, in which the local quintet was defeated by Perth Amboy by a score of 31 to 29 after a very hard-fought battle.

Seniors: Danyo, Kane, Bassoff, and Johansen.

SENIOR PLAY

"YOU CAN'T TAKE IT WITH YOU"

Last year on Broadway, this year at Plainfield High School! That is the story of the successful Pulitzer Prize comedy by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman, "You Can't Take It With You," this year's Senior Class Play. Certainly it was as big a success this year as it was last, due mostly to the capable direction of Miss Le Fevre and to the brilliant performances of the entire cast.

Last Will and Testament

We, the most intelligent and studious class to graduate from this alma mater, leave with you some of our priceless treasures for which we shall have little use.

To the Juniors we bequeath:

1. The joy of finding you've forgotten to take a certain subject that is required to get into college.
2. The honor of having some of us as P. G.'s next year, or in your ranks as Seniors.
3. The trouble of voting for the right persons for the right thing in the Hall of Fame.
4. The glory of scraping up $3.00 for a driver's license.
5. The chance to struggle over writing an original last will and testament.

To the Sophomores we leave:

1. The habit of giving away your class ring a few days after you pay for it.
2. The worry of whom you're going to invite to the Junior Prom.
3. The privilege of sitting downstairs in assembly, although you won't be able to see half as well.

To the Freshmen we leave:

1. Opportunities of really getting acquainted around the school.
2. The honor of going to Senior Assembly.
3. The right to try to cut classes without getting caught.

To the Faculty we leave:

1. A little peace. We've gone.
2. The pleasure of bidding "adieu" to some P. H. S. bluffers.
3. The sorrow of saying "good-bye" to such masterminds as Wilbur Lakin and Selma Goldstein.
4. To Mr. Banta:
   Another yearbook to clutter up his small office.
5. To Mrs. Wyer:
   A decent typing class.
6. To Mr. Hitchner:
   Many new pads of passes, for he loves to rip up passes that he hasn't signed.

To the School in General we leave:

1. The right to envy those graduating. In our hearts we're not glad to leave—much.
2. Anything of ours which we may have overlooked.

In witness hereof, this twenty-second day of June, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine, we hereunto leave with you our beloved memories.

CLASS OF 1939.

Witnessed by:
Artie Goodman
Licorice Stick
Benny Shaw.

PLAINFIELD HI-Y CLUB

The Hi-Y club is an organization primarily for Christian boys who take part in the activities of the school. Members are elected by a unanimous vote of the club, and the total membership is limited to twenty-five members. Club meetings are held every Tuesday night from 6:00 to 8:30 at the Y.M.C.A. Gymnasium work takes place every Thursday and Saturday afternoons. The club strives for all-round development—physical, mental, and social. For this reason, the first hour and a half are devoted to subjects proposed by the program committee. The social part of the program is carried out by dances, trips, and parties througout the school year.

P. H. S.
Parent Teacher Association
Greets the Graduates.

The High School Association stands united in sending best wishes to the graduating class. Our highest aim has been to give valuable help, to obtain co-operation of parents, teachers and students, to open the eyes of parents and teachers to the responsibilities of being helpers in human relationship and to develop closer unity of home, school and church in conditions permitting the students' best physical, mental, social and spiritual development.

By means of our scholarship fund, sponsoring a non-profit cafeteria, also in sponsoring the band uniform fund, as well as social activities, and last, but not least by any means, co-operating with our Dean in aiding the underprivileged the Parent Teacher Association of the H. S. wants you to know we always stand ready to work for your betterment and to meet your needs.

May every student and teacher in the H. S. feel free to come to us and be assured of willingness to serve your highest ideals.

Greetings
